NOTE FOR: DDCI

FROM: D/PAO

David Kahn, an editor from Newsday, called to ask if you would write a piece on the Morrison case. His point is that the press is using the First Amendment to beat up the intelligence community while neglecting the individual responsibility of US officials to protect the information that is entrusted to them. Kahn said that he met you several months ago. We told him that your schedule was too full, but that we would ask.

We recommend that you pass on this request. Morrison was Navy, and it would appear better for Defense to write Kahn's article.
